About me

In an urgent response to the Church's call of the New Evangelization, I am committed to offering my creative, pastoral, entrepreneurial, and intellectual God-given gifts to help man and woman rediscover their innate vocation to participate in a lifelong communion of God's life and love.

I have a great passion for communicating the beauty of the Gospel of life and love via new multimedia platforms, digital evangelization marketing, religious educational programs, curriculum developments, and faith formation gatherings. My goal is to help build an authentic civilization of love, by educating on the truth, beauty, and goodness of man's dignity as being fully revealed in the living person of Jesus Christ. Spreading this message is vital for a true renewal of Christian culture today. I seek to convey this message by making use of new creative forms of art, e.g., photo, video, graphic/web design, and social media marketing. Being a Catholic Creative is my passion.

Bike for the Unborn is an annual 250-mile road-biking pilgrimage which follows the footsteps of St. Junipero Serra. Pilgrims seek to foster a culture of life. During their travel, pilgrims make stops at various Southern California Missions and participate in daily Mass, Eucharistic adoration, and community prayer for reparation of the sins associated with the culture of death. To promote this event, I designed their event logo, pilgrim t-shirts, their website, and managed their social media accounts.

Year: 2015-2016

Inspired and based on Dr. John Bergsma's book, "Bible Basics for Catholics: Old Testament", I directed a catechetical motion graphic web series on the story of salvation history from Genesis to Christ. I did this as my Senior New Evangelization thesis project at JP Catholic University. I oversaw the entire production of this project, from fundraising, story-boarding, script-writing, social media marketing, to interviewing and hiring professional voice actors, motion graphic artist, and graphic designers. I was in charge of payments, scheduling meetings, and meeting deadlines. This project was a collective effort of artists, evangelists, theologians, and entrepreneurs.

Organization: USCCB's NFP Office

Supervisor: Madeline Watkins:

Year: 2017 - 2018

Every summer the USCCB launches a National NFP Awareness Week on the third week of July. This is done to commemorate the anniversary of the papal encyclical, Humanae vitae (HV) published by Blessed Pope Paul VI on July 25th, 1968. This papal document provides beautiful and clear teachings about God's plan for married love and the transmission of life.

For the summers of 2017 and 2018, I was asked to be the lead content designer for their social media campaigns. I successfully created 20 English and 20 Spanish graphic quotes to be published on the USCCB's national social media accounts. I created both digital and print material. I researched various Catholic credible sources for quotes that promote the dignity of life and love. I sought to create a consistent brand throughout my graphics in their font, color scheme, and style. My graphics reached a large audience of 20K+ views via Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter. According to my project supervisor, Madeline Watkins, she notes these past two campaigns have been "...the most successful it has been to date, thanks largely to the content and graphics that Janisse helped to draft and execute..."

National NFP Awareness Week provides an opportunity to spread the word about Catholic teaching on marriage, conjugal love and responsible parenthood. Sharing basic information about the methods of NFP and why they support God's design for life and love is at the heart of this national campaign.

MUR offers resources to assist with the education and catechesis of Catholics on why marriage is unique and why it should be promoted and protected as the union of one man and one woman. I was tasked with creating weekly content to post both on the website and all of MUR's social media accounts. Upholding a consistent brand was key to our success. I was in charge of creating content to promote various blog series and campaigns, e.g., National Marriage Week, Love and Responsibility blog series, and Gaudium et Spes blog series. I also helped manage and update the WordPress website on a weekly basis.

Year: 2017 - Present

As a photographer, I believe photos are meant to capture lifelong memories for you and your loved ones that will be treasured for generations to come. I therefore seek to capture images that speak beauty, goodness, truth, and authentic love to the rest of the world. These are the transcendental realities that will last for all of eternity and will never be out of style. I am a hybrid photographer meaning I shoot both in digital and film format because I love the elegant and timeless quality it offers my clients.

This past year my entrepreneurial and creative spirit has led me to jumpstart my own photography business offering photo sessions for engaged couples, weddings, and families. My small photo business has trained me to become accountable for payment plans, executing timelines, and meeting deadlines for my customers.

“In producing a work, artists express themselves to the point where their work becomes a unique disclosure of their own being, of what they are and of how they are what they are. ...The history of art, therefore, is not only a story of works produced but also a story of men and women. Works of art speak of their authors; they enable us to know their inner life, and they reveal the original contribution which artists offer to the history of culture.”
